

Sail Away

There's a shipwreck, run aground, run ashore,
Trying to turn back time, to the place we were before,
We are stuck here, can't escape this sinking sand,
Trying to find an answer better understand.

Sail away, raise a glass, never look back,
Sail away, raise a glass, never look back.

Sail away, tomorrow's another day,
Find the way, you know the way to go,
Sail away.

Take a step back, drop the anchor in the bay,
It didn't take just yesterday for the waves to capture me,
It's an ocean, the storm and the calm,
It took time, strength and fear to know who I am.

Sail away, raise a glass, never look back,
Sail away, raise a glass, never look back.

Sail away, tomorrow's another day,
Find the way, you know the way to go,
Sail away.

In the distance, there is a rising sun,
It's a sign, a rhyme, a reason, there are better things to come,
Raise a glass now, to happiness and life,
Walk away from all the worries, troubles and the strife.

Sail away, raise a glass, never look back,
Sail away, raise a glass, never look back.

Sail away, tomorrow's another day,
Find the way, you know the way to go,

Sail away, tomorrow's another day,
Find the way, you know the way to go,
Sail away.
